1ST PRIZE

This photography is all about using little figurines set in a scene with real-world objects. The trick is to build an illusion of scale where the figures and the surroundings look life-size. Photographed images do not seem to be statements about the world so much as pieces of it, miniatures of reality that anyone can make or acquire.

Lights are not only bright, but they also look lovely and joyful. posting a beautiful source of light, whether it's fairy lights, candlelight, or streetlight, that will truly capture the beauty of your picture. The little world with its familiar surroundings is a model of the greater world. The more intensively the family has stamped its character upon the child, the more it will tend to feel and see its earlier miniature world again in the bigger world of adult life. Naturally this is not a conscious, intellectual process.

Device Used: Realme 6 Mobile Camera

It is a popular photographic activity mostly because it is fairly easy to achieve great results. It is specialized in commercial photography, the products of which are used in advertisements, magazines & so on.

3RD PRIZE

Achieving gender equality and empowering women is not only the right thing to do but is a critical ingredient in the fight against extreme poverty, hunger and malnutrition.

Women and girls in rural areas lack equal access to productive resources and assets, public services, such as education and health care, and infrastructure, including water and sanitation, while much of their labour remains invisible and unpaid, even as their workloads become increasingly heavy due to the out-migration of men. Structural barriers and discriminatory social norms continue to constrain women's decision-making power and political participation in rural households and communities.

Display posters are a fantastic way to provide quick, digestible information to your pupils, and even your family at home! Whether it's awareness week or not, ensure that your environment is inclusive and celebrates uniqueness with these facts about development of rural women Poster.

The students participated in the competition with immense zeal and enthusiasm and made beautiful posters. The poster makes sure that everyone is aware about the communities who are facing various crisis across the world.

It was a great opportunity to watch these young minds creating and displaying their ideas on posters. The posters were assessed based on rubrics such as relevance to theme, design, Implementation to solution, Creativity.

This activity kept the student engaged and it was organized to explore and encourage creativity in students and offer them a platform to showcase their skills.

Life Without technology may seem daunting, but it also has its charm.

Once upon a time, there was a small town in the countryside where people lived a simple life without technology. A young woman, GRACE, sits at a table, sipping on a cup of tea. She looks around the cafe and notices that no one is on their phone or computer. She seems surprised.

GRACE: Excuse me, do you have Wi-Fi here?

Waitress: Sorry, we don't have Wi-Fi.

GRACE: (Confused) What about outlets to charge my phone?

Waitress: I'm sorry. We don't have any outlets either.

GENDER DIFFERENCES IN EDUCATION.

Gender differences occur in many aspects of a person's life whether it is culture, politics, occupation, family and relationships or economy. One major difference in gender occurs in education in the elementary and secondary levels.

There are several gender differences in education that have been observed over time. Firstly, studies have shown that girls tend to perform better in reading and writing tasks, while boys excel in math and science. This difference in academic strengths is thought to be partly due to socialization and cultural expectations.

Secondly, girls tend to have higher levels of educational attainment than boys, with more girls completing secondary and tertiary education. However, boys are more likely to pursue technical or vocational training.

Thirdly, there are also differences in the subjects that boys and girls choose to study. Girls are more likely to choose humanities and social sciences, while boys are more likely to choose STEM subjects like mechanics etc...

Lastly, gender disparities exist in terms of access to education, particularly in developing countries. Girls

LIFE WITHOUT TECHNOLOGY

Imagine how life would be without technology? Technology has become a part of everybody's life; most people can't imagine living without technology.

Once upon a time, there was a small town in the countryside where people lived a simple life without technology. There were no cell phones, computers or TVs. People communicated with each other by talking face to face or writing letters. They used candles and oil lamps for light and cooked food over a wood-fired stove. Life was hard,

The official mission of SDG 11 is to "Make cities inclusive, safe, resilient and sustainable". SDG 11 addresses slums, human settlement management and planning, climate change mitigation and adaptation, and urban economies. Prior to the adoption of the 2030 Agenda, Millennium Development Goal 7, target 4, called for efforts to achieve a "significant improvement in the lives of at least 100 million slum dwellers" by 2020.

There has been a rapid growth of mega-cities, especially in the developing world: "In 1990, there were ten mega-cities with 10 million inhabitants or more, and in 2014, there were 28 mega-cities, home to a total of 453 million people". With regards to slums, data shows that "828 million people live in slums today and most them are found in Eastern and South-Eastern Asia".

SDG 11 represents "a shift in international development cooperation from a focus on poverty as a rural phenomenon to recognizing that cities, especially in the global south, are facing major challenges with extreme poverty, environmental degradation and risks due to climate change and natural disasters"

The students participated in the competition with immense zeal and enthusiasm and made beautiful posters. The poster makes sure that everyone is aware about the communities who are facing various crisis across the world.

It was a great opportunity to watch these young minds creating and displaying their ideas on posters. The posters were assessed based on rubrics such as relevance to theme, design, Implementation to solution, Creativity. This activity kept the student engaged and it was organized to explore and encourage creativity in students and offer them a platform to showcase their skills.
